Magistrate's refusal to act sets the stage for government shutdown

Four on court refuse to discuss or vote on budget at reg. meeting last wk.

By Miranda Cantrell James

A motion for the Morgan County fiscal court to approve a 2007-2008 county budget reflecting a 1 percent payroll tax died for lack of a second during the court's regular meeting on May 9 when four of the county's five magistrates declined to vote.

Faced with approving a balanced budget requiring the tax or inviting a government shutdown on July 1, the four magistrates sat silent, setting the stage for the latter.

Magistrate Frankie Spencer, who made the motion, said without the levy, funds for essential services would have to be eliminated from the budget.

"I know nobody is for this tax," Spencer said. "I am not either, but I am prepared to do what is necessary to keep our county running. It has come to my attention that it is impossible to make cuts without losing major funds for employees, fire departments, etc.

"People say we need to live within our means, but means have gone down because costs keep going up. The cost of living has increased 120 percent in recent years; Morgan County is not exempt from this. I took an oath to see that this county prospers and is safe, so I regretfully make this motion."

The magistrates' refusal to adopt the budget ended the meeting, rendering meaningless any further discussion, including consideration of planned revenue-enhancing revisions, which were also on the agenda and which would have made possible a reduction of the payroll tax — from a levy of 1.5 percent to 1 percent.

Judge Executive Tim Conley advised the magistrates, who presented no alternative proposal of their own, that court members will face state repercussions if the budget is not approved by July 1 as mandated by law.

"It would still take a payroll tax to balance the budget even if cuts are made," Conley said. "Somewhere along the way the majority of magistrates will eventually have to pass the tax — or let the state come in and shut down the county."

Conley echoed protocol noted by Rich Ornstein and Tom Dobson, staff attorneys for the Governor's Office for Local Development, during last month's fiscal court meeting:

"A state local finance officer can file suit in circuit court if the budget is not balanced by the deadline," Conley said. "That means everything the county touches will be shut down, including the sheriff's department and clerk's office, as well as the road department, etc." because without a budget, the county

Magistrates vote no to budget and tax at spec. meet

Ball is now in their court with time running out to avert legal action by state

The Fiscal Court again rejected a proposed county budget Tuesday morning at a special meeting called by Judge Executive Tim Conley in a last-ditch attempt to avoid a government shutdown July 1.

This time, the magistrates, who had refused to act on the budget when it was presented by Judge Conley at last week's regular meeting, voted 3 to 2 against the measure. Magistrate Frankie Spencer, who made the motion to adopt, and Judge Conley voted yes and Magistrates Stanley Riggsby, Randy Cantrell, and Denzil Potter voted nay. Magistrate Burton Stacy did not attend the meeting.

Little interest locally in next Tues.'s election

Parties will choose nominees for governor, constitutional officers

A light turnout is expected in Morgan County at next Tuesday's primary election at which the Democrat and Republican parties will select their nominees for governor and other state constitutional officers.

Observers say the race for the Democrat gubernatorial nomination is a tossup locally between millionaire Bruce Lunsford, former Lt. Governor Steve Beshear, House Speaker Jody Richards, and former Lt. Governor Steve Henry.

Gov. Ernie Fletcher is expected to get the majority of votes for his party's re-nomination from Morgan's Republican voters, observers say.

County Court Clerk Randy Williams said that judging from the sparse number of applications he has received for absentee ballots and the equally sparse number that have cast their votes on the absentee voting machines in his office, a voter turnout here on Tuesday of as little as 30 percent would not surprise him.

Polling places across the county will open at 6:00 a.m. and close at 6:00 p.m. Sample ballots for next Tuesday's election are included elsewhere in this edition.

Absentee voting booth open at Clerk's Office

County Clerk Randy Williams announces that absentee voting machines are open in the Clerk's Office for voters who intend to cast votes for the May 22 primary election. The office is open 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday and on Saturday from 8:00 a.m. to noon.

Wolfe Co. to buy land for E.Ky. Heritage Monument

CAMPTON — The Wolfe County Fiscal Court voted at its regular meeting May 9 to purchase property near Campton for the proposed Eastern Kentucky Heritage Monument — an ambitious grassroots project aimed at drawing tourists to this area of Eastern Kentucky.

The court voted 4 to 1 to join with the state and purchase the site near the divergence of the Bert T. Combs Mountain Parkway and Ky. 15.

The court will use untapped monies granted the county over a decade ago for industrial development purposes to pay two thirds of the purchase price for the monument site and the state will purchase the other one-third.

Seen as an economic boon to Wolfe and surrounding counties, the monument, a 75-foot stainless steel wind chime sculpture, would be visible for miles to tourists traveling along the Mountain Parkway and would be the centerpiece for a complex that would include an interactive information center geared around Eastern Kentucky's rich musical tradition where visitors could view videos pertaining to mountain music, literature, venues and attractions.

Led by project director David Musser, the Heritage Monument project has drawn the support of various civic groups throughout Wolfe and surrounding counties as well as the support of local governments in adjoining counties.

Musser says the monument complex would revitalize Wolfe County's economy and would have a beneficial impact on the economies of neighboring counties. Research indicates that the project would draw over 700,000 visitors a year, generate over $63 million and create over 1,000 jobs for the area, according to Musser.

Musser and project supporters are hoping construction of the projected $15 to $20 million monument can begin by 1010.

Age 13-14 — Ryan Gevedon, overall champion with 667 points; Ryan Gevedon, pitch champion; Ryan Gevedon, hit champion; Tyler Conley, hit champion; Larrin Collins, run champion.

The winners will now compete in the Sectional competition May 26 in Boone County. Sectional All-Around Champions will be eligible to qualify for the Team Championship to be held at Great American Ballpark.

Pitch, Hit and Run is a baseball skills competition that allows youngsters to showcase their talents with scores determined by three-run frame. Meanwhile, the Cougars managed only four hits over the final three innings, but failed to score.

Morgan County — 8 Fairview — 3

The Cougars had multiple run innings in the first, third and fifth on their way to an 8-3 win over Fairview.

John Robert Henderson and Bubba Loudermilk singled and scored in the first to give Morgan the early 2-0 lead. After the Eagles tied it in the second, Brandon Evans's team regained the lead in the third on the strength of a two-run homer by Tyler Adkins.

Matt Harris, Kevin Lykins and Adkins scored in the fifth before Henderson singled and came home on Harris's RBI hit in the sixth to account for the five-win win.

Morgan County — 24 Owsley County — 2

The Cougars' six-run first inning proved on the beginning as Morgan County hammered visiting Owsley County, 24-2.

Morgan added another six in the second inning, as well as a seven spot in the third. The Cougars made it an official game in the fourth, scoring four to wrap up the 22-run victory.

Tyler Adkins led Morgan with four hits, while Kevin Lykins and John Robert Henderson scored four runs apiece. The 24 runs scored marked Morgan's biggest total of the season — two better than the 22 scored against Elliott county on April 5.

cannot expend any money.

Should Morgan County not adopt a balanced budget by July 1 as constitutionally required, the state Office for Local Development would be forced to file suit against the fiscal court and its members individually to force compliance.

Magistrate Denzil Potter, speaking prior to the motion to adopt the budget, said the court should consider the burden a payroll tax would incur on the county work force.

"We have to think about the working people of Morgan county," Potter said. "Many of them don't make much money anyway, and gas is supposed to go up to $4 per gallon this summer. Can they afford this tax?"

County Attorney Steve O'Connor suggested magistrates consider exempting low-income workers from the tax.

"How can we exclude the poorest among us?" O'Connor asked. "There are people in this county trying to live on as little as $700, $800 and $900 a month who can't afford this tax. Maybe those who make a considerably greater amount of money could make up for what the poor shouldn't have to pay."

A discussion of the county's finances ended with County Treasurer Tommy Phipps's monthly financial report, in which he stressed the necessity of a balanced budget.

"Even if the county had $10 million in the bank," Phipps said, "if there's no balanced budget we can't use that money. The county is busted — it will run out of money before the fiscal year is over. If we don't have money we can't pay people; the situation couldn't be worse."

Before adjournment, longtime PVA Darrell Bradley, who is retiring this month, addressed the court.

"This is my last fiscal court meeting as PVA," Bradley said. "When I requested anything from the court, I always got it. I just want to thank everyone — you have all done a great job and I appreciate it."

would require revenues from a proposed 1 percent payroll tax (rather than the 1.5 percent levy originally proposed), the magistrates, who are sworn to operate the county in a fiscally-responsible manner, shifted the responsibility for developing a budget squarely onto their own shoulders.

They face a formidable task. County Treasurer Tommy Phipps advised the court during the meeting that money to meet the county payroll probably will run out within two weeks. County road equipment already has been parked to save on expenses.

Even if the court eliminates all county services — garbage service, road maintenance, etc. — and all funds earmarked in the budget for county fire departments, the rescue squad, park maintenance and youth activities, along with subsidies for veterans organizations, and cuts its payroll by laying off every county employee, it would not be enough to offset mandated expenditures and make the budget balance, Phipps said.

"You're not going to be able to save your way out of this; it's not going to happen," Phipps told the magistrates.

Pointing to Phipps' 30 years of experience as county treasurer, Judge Conley pleaded with the magistrates to "put some trust in what he's telling us" and adopt the revised measure to obviate the need for the state to file suit to force the court to comply with its constitutional obligation to submit a balanced budget.

After Magistrate Spencer's motion to adopt failed to get a second from any of the other court members, Judge Conley seconded the motion, forcing a vote.

After rejecting the motion, Magistrates Cantrell, Potter, and Riggsby indicated they want to confer again with Phipps before time runs out to attempt to devise a budget that will balance without a payroll tax.

The magistrates have only a handful of days to come up with an alternative to the budget prepared by Treasurer Phipps and Judge Conley.

Attending the meeting were two top officials from the state local finance department in Frankfort who explained that without a balanced budget, the state is constitutionally mandated to file suit against the court and the magistrates. At that point, the county will be prohibited from spending any money until a budget that balances is submitted and approved by the state.

And they advised the magistrates that time is running out to get a budget approved in Frankfort in time to avoid a shutdown of county services.

In other business, board members heard concerns from teachers, parents and administrators about students with behavioral problems.

"The group was concerned we don't have an effective program to deal with these students," said Supt. Joe Dan Gold. "They would like to start a group to look at this behavior with law enforcement, the court system, etc. to develop more effective strategies."

The board also set budgeting priorities for upcoming summer maintenance projects, which includes various jobs.

"We will make final decisions regarding maintenance projects at later date," Gold said. "There is a long list of jobs including air conditioning unit replacements, termite treatments, track resurfacing and roof replacement at the Cougar Den."

Members discussed purchasing computers for the new Morgan Central Elementary School, which is slated to open in August for the 2007-2008 school year.

"We did not take any action regarding the purchase of computers," Gold said. "However, we have discussed possibly buying all new computers for the school, including laptops for teachers' use. This decision will also be made at a later date."

The board also in preparation for the upcoming school year set school boundaries for current Morgan Central Elementary School, West Liberty Elementary School and Wrigley Elementary School students.

"These boundaries are set to determine where these students will go to school next year," Gold said. "This should clear up any confusion regarding the pending moves for Wrigley students and some WLES students."

A facilities plan for the 2007-2008 school year was also approved by board members, who Gold said would be submitting the plan to the Kentucky Department of Education (KDE) following a public hearing on May 21.

"The facilities plan assesses needs and unmet needs for the district's school buildings," Gold

ENJOYS ARTICLE ABOUT CABIN

To the Editor:

I've spent a lot of time reading the article in your paper concerning the double log cabin and the James Day home. I remember visiting in the Day home (not the log cabin). I'm 90 years old, not sure I could add extra information that would be of interest to others.

My father, Lester Fugett, and family moved to Ohio in 1937 and I came to Iowa. I have visited in West Liberty quite often, as our family cemetery is there. The name was changed from Fugett Hill to Day Hill some time after we moved.

CONCERNING PARKS IN MORGAN CO.

To the Editor,

In your most recent published Licking Valley Courier, a concerned Morgan County citizen was expressing their freedom of speech and in doing so commented, "I wonder how many parks we need in Morgan County... Most of the people don't have the money to buy food and go to the park."

I have been a member of the West Liberty Kiwanis Club since 1992 and have had various opportunities to be on committees for the parks the Kiwanis Club either fully or partners to maintain. These include Brooks Park, Lot, Basketball and Tennis Courts, Kiwanis Swimming Pool and Playground and Tredway Memorial Park. A Kiwanis member performs the upkeep and/or overseeing. Funding is by donations and grants and the largest percentage is generated from Kiwanis fund-raising events. The trash cans at the Tredway Park are constantly in need of emptying of food containers where the public has enjoyed the gazebo setting while eating.

The Kiwanis Club is pleased that the public continues to benefit from the above mentioned locales and hopes that everyone is looking forward to the opening of the swimming pool in the weeks to come.

Thank you To Morgan County Christian Academy Teachers: Judy Cantrell, Wanda Cox, Charlotte Dunn and Charlotte Stacy

The Morgan County Christian Academy PTO would like to express a sincere "thank you" for all the work our teachers have done at our school this year and for all the love and care they have provided our small children. These early years are very formative and we believe our children will carry with them the skills and values taught to them for the rest of their lives. They will always have special memories of MCCA.

The education received by our children at Morgan County Christian Academy, in our opinion, is the best. Due to the small classes, the teachers are able to work individually with each student. Our past test scores have proven they are excelling in academics.

Not only are they excelling in ceremony for the new officers and appointee on May 7.

Funeral directors will assist in contacting one of the chapter officers about military services. There is no cost for the service. "We consider it a privilege and wish to assist in this manner," said Adjutant Tony Adkins.

The DAV meets the first Friday of each month at the Morgan County Office Building in the fiscal court meeting room at 7:30 p.m. All honorably discharged veterans are welcomed to attend and become members. For information or to express concerns, contact any of the above officers.

4th and 5th graders participate in Environmental Day Camps

Over 130 fourth graders and 110 fifth graders attended the 2007 Environmental Day Camps during April. The fourth graders experienced their day at Old Mill Park learning about erosion, water pollution, etc., while the fifth graders had their day camp in the Community Center on the following day. Weather was definitely not on their side. Teens from Mr. Steve McKenzie's Earth and Space Science Class taught eleven different learning stations.

The day camp was made possible by a PRIDE grant awarded to the Morgan County 4-H Program and Community Education.

The learning stations included such topics as water pollution, making bird houses, recycling, solar system, solids and liquids and oil spills. Kentucky Reptile Zoo of Slade, Ky., opened the environmental day camps with a presentation about native snakes in this area.

Teens working with 4th graders on how to put birdhouses together.

Partners in coordinating this event were the Family Resource Centers from all the elementary schools, Morgan County Community Ed and 21st Century, Morgan County High Youth Service Center and Morgan County 4-H Youth Development.

Special thanks to all the fourth and fifth grade teachers, parent volunteers and bus drivers for helping make this a successful fun and educational event.

Simple Elegance Cafe resurrects traditional family dinner of past

By Miranda Cantrell James

A new restaurant is endearing itself to local customers by utilizing a familiar motto: less is more.

Simple Elegance Cafe, located at 214 Riverside Dr. in West Liberty, provides an intimate atmosphere for patrons to enjoy quality homecooked food at reasonable prices.

Owners Steve and Teresa Elam and Kenny and Audrey Dulin said they seek to resurrect the traditional family dinner in the 26-seat cafe.

"Sitting down and eating dinner at the table was always a cherished time for my family," Steve Elam said. "This custom has become a thing of the past for many people, and we want to re-create that here. Our smaller, more homelike dining area gives people a chance to sit down and talk to each other while enjoying a nice meal."

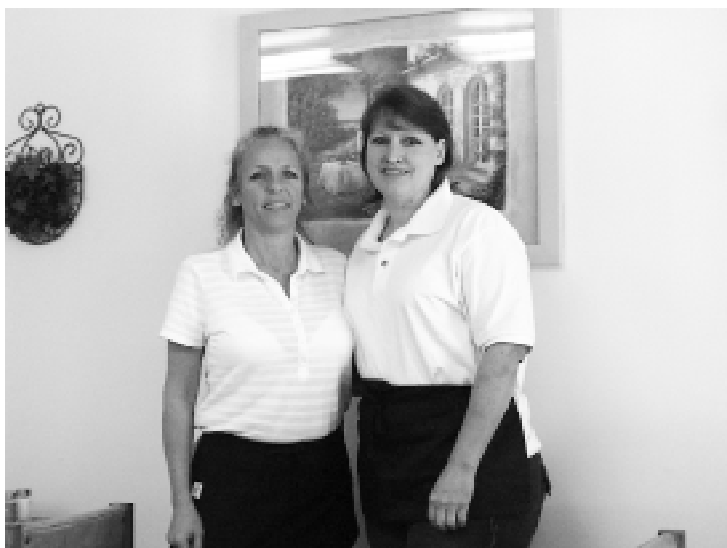

Customers can converse over diverse breakfast and lunch menus including biscuits, gravy, waffles and eggs, as well as turkey burgers, taco salads, quiche and more. The evening dinner menu is incomplete at this time.

"We wanted to do something different because this is largely a fast food community," Audrey Dulin said. "All of our food is fresh and homemade daily. The cafe setup allows us to pay more attention to the food as well as the customers."

Theresa Elam said exemplary customer service is an essential goal.

"Customers are treated as if they are coming into our homes," Elam said. "Presentation is also very important; we want everything to be as nice to look at as it is to eat. Customers seem to enjoy the one-on-one service."

First-time patron Homer

Pictured above are Simple Elegance Cafe owners Teresa Elam and Audrey Dulin. The cafe, which also houses a catering service, is a joint venture of Teresa and Steve Elam and Audrey and Kenny Dulin.

"Sonny" Rose agreed.

"The food is very good," Rose said. "It is tasty and the atmosphere is uniquely homey and quaint. I also appreciate the great service, which is certainly adequate."

Patrons can also enjoy the homemade cuisine at private functions such as weddings and banquets through the cafe's catering service, which provides appetizers, full dinners, etc.

"Our catering service has grown by word of mouth," Theresa Elam said. "The feedback has been phenomenal; we are ready to prepare whatever kind of order is requested."

The Elams and Dulin's also plan to add more menu items and seating to accommodate consumers.

"Evening dinner and Sunday brunch menus are currently in the works," Theresa Elam said. "We also want to add tables to our patio area for outdoor dining, but other than that we are pretty happy with our establishment and have no plans for major expansion."

Steve Elam said owners' family were the inspiration for the cafe project.

"Audrey and I are first cousins," Elam said. "We have many family members who are wonderful cooks, including my mother Kathryn Elam, her father, the late James Williams, our uncle, the late Delmar Williams (who was a cook on a naval ship), and our aunts, the late Madge, May and Kate Williams. We greatly admire them and hope to continue their tradition of great food and accommodation."

Simple Elegance Cafe's temporary business hours are 8 a.m.-3 p.m. Monday-Friday, with the lunch special served 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Call 743-2750 for more information on the cafe or catering service.

ENERGY SAVING TIPS

Dirt and neglect are the primary causes of system failure. Schedule an annual, pre-season maintenance checkup with a licensed contractor to ensure your cooling system is operating efficiently and safely. Be sure to clean or change your system's air filter according to the filter's instructions — generally once a month. Keep it clean to keep it efficient.

Don't let the hot air in and your cool air out. Find and seal air leaks that cause drafts and make your cooling system work overtime. You or a licensed contractor can follow ENERGY STAR Home Sealing recommendations to tighten your home's "envelope" — outer walls, ceiling, windows, and floors.

Save energy by taking advantage of periods in the day when your home doesn't need to be kept as cool. A programmable thermostat, set and used properly, can save up to $150 in energy costs each year. Ceiling fans can also cut home energy use — turn the thermostat up several degrees while using the fans to deliver the extra cooling comfort.

IN MEMORIAM

In Memory Of
Rev. Jesse W. Smith
May 18, 1922 • March 24,
2007

To those who I love and those who love me

When I am gone, release me,
let me go,
I have so many things to see and do.
You mustn't tie yourself to me with tears,
Be happy we had so many years.

I gave you my love, you can only guess
How much you gave me in happiness.
I thank you for the love you each have shown,
But it's only for awhile that we must part.

I won't be far away for life goes on,
So, if you need me call and I will come.
Though you can't see or touch me, I'll be near--
And if you listen with your heart you'll hear;
All of my love around you softly and clear.

And then you must come this way alone,
I'll greet you with a smile and say,
"Welcome home."

Nightly Nightmare

By Graham Lewis
I got into my bed as sleepy as I could be, but it was not my fault I was only three. In my dream first, I fell out of the sky! I was unlucky that night because I could not even fly!

I fell out of nowhere into a hillbilly town, it looked very old and almost torn down. I went to a place behind a hill, where the wind was not blowing so I would not get a chill.

I heard noises from beyond the hill, it did not sound friendly and like it would kill! I could not breathe when they came for me, It was a spaceship! I had to flee!

I screamed and screamed, ran and ran, that spaceship was going fast, faster than a van!

I jumped behind a rock, where it could not see me. I was little behind that rock, as little as a flea.

I was so scared, I sweated so much, and then I remembered, I did not have lunch!

I started to itch, and I needed cream, then I remembered, it was only a dream!!!

I went to that spaceship, and said listen here, I am not scared of you, I have no fear.

The spaceship vanished, right in thin air, it must have needed a haircut, but he did not have hair?

Then I vanished, just like a broken cup, and I would tell you more but... Then I happily woke up.

Morgan Co. Water District Water Quality Report

January 1 through December 31, 2006
PWSID # 0880594

Water - essential for life

We are pleased to present this Annual Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform the public about the quality of water and services provided on a daily basis. Our commitment is to provide our customers with a safe, clean, and reliable supply of drinking water. We would like the public to be assured that we will continue to monitor, improve, and protect the water system and deliver a high quality water direct from the tap. We know that water is the most indispensable product in every home and we ask everyone to be conservative and help us in our efforts to protect the water source and the water system. Please report any activity that might jeopardize the water supply.

We buy our water wholesale from the City of West Liberty Waterworks, Cave Run Water Commission and Paintsville Utilities. The water source for West Liberty is surface water from Cave Run Lake and the Licking River. The water source for the Cave Run Water Commission is surface water from Cave Run Lake. The water source for Paintsville Utilities is surface water from the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River. The area around the sources is mostly residential but also contains some agricultural, recreational, and light industry activities. The final source water assessment for our system has been completed and is contained in the Morgan County Water Supply Plan. Copies of the plan are available from out office. The potential for contamination of the Cave Run Water Commission, West Liberty's and Paintsville's water supply is generally moderate.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects may be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and may pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, (sewage plants, septic systems, livestock operations, or wildlife). Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, (naturally occurring or from stormwater runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming). Pesticides and herbicides, (stormwater runoff, agriculture or residential uses). Organic Chemical Contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, (by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, or from gas stations, stormwater runoff, or septic systems). Radioactive contaminants, (naturally occurring or from oil and gas production or mining activities). In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water to provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some or all of these definitions may be found in this report:

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Below Detection Levels (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.

Not Applicable (N/A) - does not apply.

Parts per million (ppm) - one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) - or micrograms per liter, (µg/L). One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Parts per trillion (ppt) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.

Parts per quadrillion (ppq) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.

Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.

Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity is monitored because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of the filtration system.

Variances & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.

Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

The data presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with administrative regulations in 401 KAR Chapter 8. As authorized and approved by EPA, the State has reduced monitoring requirements for certain contaminants to less often than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data in this table, though representative, may be more than one year old. Unless otherwise noted, the report level is the highest level detected.

A=West Liberty B= Cave Run Water Commission C= Paintsville Utilities

West Liberty received a notice of violation for exceeding the MCL in reference to the Haloacetic Acids parameter during the 1st and 2nd quarter of 2006 for having .065 mg/l in the 1st quarter and .063 in the 2nd quarter. The standard for haloacetic acids is .060 mg/l. In an effort to resolve this issue numerous operational procedures are being attempted including, but not limited to , reducing disinfection to the lowest level possible without compromising health and safety, increasing the addition of activated carbon, adjust the tank levels, more frequent flushing to solve the problem. Haloacetic Acids-Some people who drink water containing haloacetic acids in excess of the MCL over many years may have a increased risk of getting cancer.

In December 2005, January March, and May 2006 Cave Run Water Commission failed to meet monitoring requirements for Total Organic Carbon. In both instances, they sampled the water for TOC. They are required to report the results to the Division of Water. The laboratory that oversees this failed to submit the results within the proper timw frame. The samples were taken within the proper time frame and did meet drinking water standards. There is nothing you need to do at this time. Cave Run Water Commission are taking extra measures to assure that this does not happen again.

During the last quarter of 2006the calculated TOC ratio was below 1 for the Cave Run Water Commssion. The commission has since changed treatment techniques to correct the problem. the most recent tests have shown a positive effect on the drinking water. Total organic carbon (TOC) has no health effects. However, total organic carbon, provides amedium for the formation of disinfection byproducts. These byproducts include trihalomethanes, or THMs, and haloacetic acids, or HAAs. Drinking water containing these byproducts in excess of the MCL may lead to an increased risk of getting cancer.

Antimony. Some people who drink water containing antimony well in excess of the MCL over many years could experience increases in blood cholesterol and decreases in blood sugar.

This report is being published in the local newspaper and will not be mailed to customers unless requested. If you would like a copy of this report contact our business office.

Lady Cougars sweep Elliott in doubleheader

By David Patrick

Morgan County – 11
Elliott County – 5

The Lady Cougars put the game away early, scoring eight times in the second inning, enroute to an 11-5 win over visiting Elliott County.

After Sam Jarvis scored in the first, Morgan County put the game away in its next at-bat. Rickayla Ison, Crystal Benton, Taneika Salyer and Jarvis all reached safely before Meghan Howard and Cassie Bowersock changed out back-to-back run-scoring triples.

Bowersock and Gerrica Dye singled in the fourth inning to give their team a 10-0 lead. After the Lady Lions broke through with a five-run fifth inning, Morgan added an insurance run when Howard doubled and eventually scored her team's final tally in the sixth.

Jarvis, Howard, Bowersock and Dye led the offense with two hits apiece.

On the mound, Dye went the distance for Coach Bobby Bowersock, allowing just five runs on as many hits.

Morgan County – 16
Elliott County – 5

The Lady Cougars again did their offense damage early, scoring eight runs in the first inning, completing the double-header sweep of Elliott County.

Sam Jarvis and Meghan Howard singled before Cassie Bowersock tripled for a 2-0 Lady Cougar lead. Gerrica Dye, Janaye Coffee, Jackie Riffle, Crystal Benton and Taneika Salyer also scored as part of the eight-run frame.

Bobby Bowersock's team went on another scoring spree in the third inning as Riffle, Benton, Salyer, Jarvis, Howard, Cassie Bowersock, Haley Linkous and Alyssa Dulen each came home to give their team a 15-run lead.

Jarvis, Bowersock and Salyer led Morgan with three hits apiece.

On the mound, Dye was in control, allowing a single run in the second and fourth give up three in the fifth. Dye struck out eight through five innings.

Basketball Outreach here on Monday was big success

Former UK players, Perry's testimony highlight evening

By David Patrick

It was a night that served a dual purpose. Monday's benefit basketball game at Morgan County High School not only raised money for the Cougar athletic fund, but more importantly, gave former UK players Cameron Mills and Bobby Perry the opportunity to share their faith and the message of Jesus Christ.

Nearly 400 fans turned out for the game, which also included appearances by UK senior Lukaszc Obrzut and former Wildcat and current New York Knick Randolph Morris. Also joining the "Hoop Stars" team—House Majority Leader Rocky Adkins, WKYT-TV Meteorologists Chris Bailey and Kevin Lighty, Big Blue Network videographer Shane Fannin and yours truly.

The "Cougar Legends" were stocked with talent as well, including regional tournament hero Ralph Hamilton, Morgan County coach Matthew Perry and Steve Gullett, who scored a team-high 32 points. Also representing the Legends squad were Tony Conley, Adam Montgomery, Ryan Phipps, Joe Gamble, Brian Evans and Anthony Ferguson. The Morgan County team was coached by State Representative John Will Stacy.

The Legends overcame an early double-digit deficit to grab a five-point lead at the end of the first quarter, thanks to five 3-point baskets from Gullett. But Perry and Morris combined for 22 of the Stars' 32 points in the second period along with three baskets off the bench from Lighty to help their team to a 64-56 lead at the half.

Obrzut picked up the slack after the intermission with 10 third quarter points as the Stars' pushed their lead to 10. But the Legends made one final push and actually took the lead on a combined seven 3-point baskets by Montgomery, Gullett and the old ball coach, Matt Perry. However, the Stars' Chris Bailey knocked down his second 3-pointer of the game and Morris banked a three in from the top of the key to regain the lead for the visitors. Perry and Obrzut added six points apiece in the final minutes to secure the Stars' 113-107 win.

Bobby Perry led all scorers with 36 points, while Obrzut and Morris added 28 and 27 points, respectively. Gullett's 32 points was complimented by a 20-point effort from Hamilton. Gamble and Matt Perry each scored 13, while Tony Conley rounded out the double-figure scoring with 12 points.

At the conclusion of the first period, Mills shared a brief testimony about his faith before giving way to Perry at intermission. Perry talked about a mission trip last year to Brazil with several fellow SEC players, including conference Player of the Year Derrick Byars and Florida guard Lee Humphrey. It was there, Perry said, in a small room during the early hours of the morning, that several players shared their convictions and beliefs and that he committed his life to Jesus Christ.

The former UK player is now beginning to share his testimony at churches throughout the state. In fact, Perry will be at the Johnson First Church of God in Morehead this Sunday night.

Several churches and individuals made the night possible, including Faith Assembly, Zag Community Church and West Liberty Christian Church. Also a special thanks to Superintendent Joe Dan Gold for his support, as well as Danny Ray Fannin and the great folks at Giovanni's for providing food for the players.

Baseball Cougars win 3 of 5

Morgan improves to 16-9, including mercies of Menifee, Owsley

By David Patrick

Morgan County – 14
Menifee County – 4

John Robert Henderson, Bubba Loudermilk and Kevin Lykins combined to score nine runs as the host Cougars beat Menifee County in five innings, 14-4.

Matt Harris, Loudermilk, Lykins and Tyler Adkins all reached safely and scored in the first inning. Lykins provided the big hit with a two-run double. Brandon Evans's team was at it again in the second, adding another four runs, including another run scoring hit from Lykins.

The Cougars added three runs in the third on hits from Jon Lopez, Harris and Loudermilk. John Robert Henderson also scored in the inning after drawing a walk and stealing second base. Morgan County added its final two runs in the fifth inning, highlighted by a run scoring double from Adkins.

Lykins led the Cougar hit parade with three hits, while Loudermilk and Henderson added two apiece.

On the mound, Joel Nickell pitched five innings of five-hit baseball, giving up two earned runs. Nickell struck out four and walked only one.

Russell – 8
Morgan County – 6
(Russell Invitational)

Russell scored five runs in the sixth inning to erase a three-run deficit on its way to a 8-6 win over the Cougars.

Run scoring hits by Jarrod Fannin and Jon Lopez gave Morgan County a 2-1 lead in the second inning. After Russell tied it with a run in the third, Morgan regained the lead with a run of its own in the fourth. John Robert Henderson then singled and scored in the fifth before Cody Barker doubled and came around in the sixth for a 6-3 Cougar lead.

But Russell's big sixth inning proved to be the difference. The Red Devils banged out six hits in the frame, with two of those going for extra bases. Kasey Clark delivered the big blow with a two-run triple.

Social Security Provisions All Government Employees Should Know About

When it comes to Social Security, many government employees have questions about two provisions of the law that may affect them. These provisions are the Government Pension Offset (GPO) and the Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP). Yes, these names sound like gobbledygook, but here are some simple questions and answers that should help readers understand what the two provisions are all about.

Who is affected by GPO and WEP?

Government employees. The Government Pension Offset (GPO) reduces the potential Social Security spouse's/widow's/widower's benefit amount someone could receive if he or she also receives a pension from a federal, state or local government for work on which no Social Security taxes were paid. The Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP) can reduce a worker's monthly Social Security benefit amount, if he or she also receives a pension from work not covered by Social Security.

What is the purpose of these provisions?

GPO and WEP are designed to ensure that all American workers are treated equally under the Social Security system. GPO stipulates that any Social Security spouse's or widow's benefit that a worker might be entitled to must be reduced by two-thirds of that worker's government pension.

Why? Well, GPO removes an advantage that some government workers once had. Before GPO, a person who worked in a government job that was not covered under Social Security could receive, in addition to a government pension based on his or her own earnings, a full Social Security spouse's or surviving spouse's benefit. No other workers had this option because Social Security benefit payable to a person as a spouse or surviving spouse must be offset, dollar for dollar, by the amount of that person's own Social Security benefit.

Similarly, WEP takes away an advantage that the regular Social Security benefit "formula" would give people who have substantial pensions from non-Social Security covered jobs. Without WEP, a worker who spent most of his or her career in employment not covered by Social Security and who worked for a short time to get Social Security coverage would end up with much higher benefits than if all of his or her work were done under Social Security.

What is the purpose of these provisions?

Last year, out of more than 49 million Social Security beneficiaries, only about 440,000 were affected by GPO. Also, last year there were more than 880,000 retired and disabled workers who had their Social Security benefit partially reduced by WEP.

Fannin inducted into Pinnacle at Morehead Univ.

MOREHEAD, Ky.—Nineteen students were recently inducted into Pinnacle International, an honorary for non-traditional students at Morehead State University.

The new members included Sherry Fannin of West Liberty. A university studies major with a minor in social work, she has been named to the Dean's List and was a member of Delta Mu Delta National Honor Society in business administration.

Fannin is a volunteer with Domestic Violence Emergency Services (D.O.V.E.S.), and is a community representative at Gateway Headstart Policy Council and a Retired Senior Volunteer Program policy council member.

Dr. C. Nelson Grote, MSU president emeritus, was the guest speaker at the induction ceremony.

To qualify for membership, students must be classified as non-traditional according to University guidelines and preferably have senior status, though exceptional juniors may be selected. Inductees must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale; demonstrate leadership, persistence, and future promise; and have participated in at least three campus and/or community activities.

Pinnacle seeks to provide non-traditional and adult students, 23 years or older, with the type of recognition that outstanding traditional students have always received, according to Scott.

Contract awarded for Ky. 519 reconstruction

Work on $10.6 million project in Rowan to begin this summer

Governor Ernie Fletcher and the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet have awarded a $10.6 million contract to rebuild and make safer a section of highway vital to area residents and the students of Morehead State University — Ky. 519 in Rowan County.

The project was among six the Cabinet received bids for last month in Department of Highways District 9 counties. The Walker Company of Kentucky Inc. was the low bidder at $10,579,803.88. Work will include reducing curves for a safer alignment, widening lanes and building new bridges.

"I'm pleased to announce this significant improvement for a highway that serves as a major artery between eastern Kentucky communities, the Morehead and Morehead State University area," said Gov. Fletcher. "We owe it to our residents to keep the roads they travel every day to work or school in the best possible condition."

Design for the reconstruction of Ky. 519, otherwise known as the Woody May Highway, which connects West Liberty and Morehead, was authorized in November 1999. Construction funds were authorized in January.

The project starts where the U.S. 60 Bypass meets Ky. 519 in Morehead and continues 2.7 miles to the bottom of Clack Mountain about a half mile south of Warren Branch. Along the way, crews will widen the road to include two 12-foot lanes with a turning lane and 8-foot paved shoulders, two new bridges and one widened bridge. Construction is expected to begin by this summer.

"Our mission is to provide a safe and reliable transportation system that enhances both quality of life and economic vitality in the commonwealth," said Transportation Cabinet Secretary Bill Nighbert. "This project is an example of how the Cabinet and the Fletcher administration are fulfilling that commitment because the reconstructed road will not only better serve area residents but also improve safety and reliability for everyone who travels it, now and in the future."

That includes MSU students and faculty, who for many years have kept Ky. 519 heavily traveled as they make their way to classes at the main campus in Morehead or regional campuses in West Liberty, Prestonsburg and elsewhere.

"This entire project has been of interest to everyone for a long time, particularly because of the highway's use by the university community," said University President Dr. Wayne D. Andrews. "We're very pleased that another section is being improved."

Construction activities are scheduled on a tentative basis and are subject to change depending on weather conditions. Motorists are asked to "Drive Smart" in work zones and be aware of workers and construction equipment when traveling in areas where projects are ongoing.

MSC Mother-Daughter dinner event of May 8th

The Margaret Stacy Circle held their annual Mother-Daughter dinner on Tuesday, May 8, at the M.S.U. Center, in West Liberty. Jenni Ison welcomed everyone and Jeanene Jett said a prayer to start the meeting. Peggy Weddington had the devotion.

Jewelie Casteel then sang three songs for us, one of which she wrote herself. They were very inspirational songs and she has a beautiful voice. We were blessed to have her share her songs with us.

We then enjoyed a delicious meal after Jeanene Jett said blessing.

The meal was catered by Tammy Miller of Miller's Creative Cakes and Catering. It consisted of turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes, broccoli casserole, salad, rolls, and a wonderful cake for dessert. Everything was wonderful. Thank you, Tammy.

The tables were decorated in pink and light green with beautiful flowers as a centerpiece and favors of a card with "The Lord's Prayer" on the front and a recipe from Anna Jean Allen on the back. Thank you, Anna Jean, for your thoughtfulness and your creative work.

Thank you, also, to Jenni Ison for your part in the decorating and the program and to anyone else who helped.

We enjoyed a time of fellowship with each other. It is always a special time when mothers and daughters and friends can come together and share some time together.

Salyer Cemetery Notice

Policy concerning flowers, decorations, and permanent plantings--Proper maintenance of the grounds requires that mowing and trimming take place on schedule throughout the growing season and that leaf and debris removal also occur at appropriate times. To accomplish these goals, the cemetery board has adopted the following policy.

- Flowers and other decorations, whether natural or artificial, that interfere with mowing and/or trimming will be removed according to the following annual schedule:
 - January 30--The holiday season having ended, all Christmas decorations will be removed.
 - April 15--All decorations will be removed to permit spring cleanup and initial mowing.
 - June 10--All Memorial Day decorations will be removed to allow resumption of regular grounds maintenance.
 - Decorations placed at other times (e.g. Mother's Day, Father's Day, and Easter) will be removed after 2 weeks to permit resumption of regular grounds maintenance.
- Annual and perennial plantings (flowers planted in the ground) must be properly maintained (weeded, watered, trimmed, "dead-headed," etc). Such plantings must be close to the monument to allow for mowing, and those that are not maintained as described above and have become overgrown or unsightly will be removed.
- Permanent plantings (trees and/or shrubs, including all evergreens and "ornamentals") must be approved by the Board.
- Shepherd's hooks are encouraged.

Fire depts., home owner extinguish housefire May 13

By Miranda Cantrell James
The Caney Valley Volunteer Fire Department responded to a housefire at 231 Danny McKenzie Rd. on Sunday, May 13, with backup from West Liberty Fire Department.

West Liberty Fire Chief John Conley said dispatch received at 11:48 p.m. a call from the residence of Gary Cole, where a fire had started around a stone grill area on the back porch.

"Damage was limited to the back porch area where a built-in grill was located," Conley said. "Mr. Cole had already contained the fire with a water hose, but firefighters spent an hour tearing out the wall around the grill to eliminate hot spots."

Conley said Cole received minor burns to his hands while containing the fire.

"Mr. Cole is very fortunate he did not lose his house," Conley said. "He was able to control the fire through his own quick thinking, and because of that he managed to save his own home."

Water Quality Report

January 1 through December 31, 2006

PWSID # 0880452B

Water - essential for life

We are pleased to present this Annual Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform the public about the quality of water and services provided on a daily basis. Our commitment is to provide our customers with a safe, clean, and reliable supply of drinking water. We would like the public to be assured that we will continue to monitor, improve, and protect the water system and deliver a high quality water direct from the tap. We know that water is the most indispensable product in every home and we ask everyone to be conservative and help us in our efforts to protect the water source and the water system. Please report any activity that might jeopardize the water supply.

We treat our water from a surface water plant. Our source is from the Cave Run Lake. An analysis of the susceptibility of the West Liberty Water supply to contamination is generally moderate. However, there are a few areas of high concern; Cave Run Lake has 5 areas of high concern, 40 areas of medium concerns, 2 areas of low concerns. Licking River, which supplies water to Cave Run Lake, has 12 areas of high concern, 52 areas of medium concern and 2 areas of low concern. A bridge on Highway 519 and a bridge on Highway 460 is the point that poses an immediate threat to the intake should an accident occur that results in the release of a substance harmful to humans. Other high concerns are farming sites and farming lands. Farming sites located in the area also present the possibility for impact from the application of pesticides and fertilizer. The final source water assessment for our system has been completed and is contained in the Morgan County Water Supply Plan. Copies of our Plan are available from our office.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects may be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and may pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, (sewage plants, septic systems, livestock operations, or wildlife). Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals,(naturally occurring or from stormwater runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming). Pesticides and herbicides, (stormwater runoff, agriculture or residential uses). Organic Chemical Contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, (by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, or from gas stations, stormwater runoff, or septic systems). Radioactive contaminants, (naturally occurring or from oil and gas production or mining activities). In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water to provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some or all of these definitions may be found in this report:

- Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
- Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
- Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
- Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
- Below Detection Levels (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.
- Not Applicable (N/A) - does not apply.
- Parts per million (ppm) - one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.
- Parts per billion (ppb) - or micrograms per liter, (µg/L). One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.
- Parts per trillion (ppt) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.
- Parts per quadrillion (ppq) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.
- Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - a measure of the radioactivity in water.
- Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.
- Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.
- Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity is monitored because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of the filtration system.
- Variances & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.
- Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.
- Treatment Technique (TT) - a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Spanish (Español) Este informe contiene información muy importante sobre la calidad de su agua beber. Tradúzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

The data presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with administrative regulations in 401 KAR Chapter 8. As authorized and approved by EPA, the State has reduced monitoring requirements for certain contaminants to less often than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data in this table, though representative, may be more than one year old. Unless otherwise noted, the report level is the highest level detected.

	Allowable Levels	Highest Single Measurement	Lowest Monthly %	Violation	Likely Source
Turbidity (NTU) TT * Representative samples of filtered water	No more than 1 NTU* Less than 0.3 NTU in 95% of monthly samples	0.76	100	No	Soil runoff

We received a notice of violation for exceeding the MCL in reference to the Haloacetic Acids parameter during the 1st and 2nd quarter of 2006 for having .065 mg/l in the 1st quarter and .063 in the 2nd quarter. The standard for haloacetic acids is .060 mg/l. In an effort to resolve this issue numerous operational procedures are being attempted including, but not limited to, reducing disinfection to the lowest level possible without compromising health and safety, increasing the addition of activated carbon, adjust the tank levels, more frequent flushing to solve the problem. Haloacetic Acids-Some people who drink water containing haloacetic acids in excess of the MCL over many years may have a increased risk of getting cancer.

This report is being published in the local newspaper and will not be mailed to customers unless requested. If you would like a copy of this report please contact our buisness office.

Bonny

By Faye Ferguson

May 7--Hi everyone. Get well wishes to the sick and shutins from everyone at Bonny.

I have been going to a therapist twice a week for my foot.

Virgil is feeling some better. Our daughter had surgery on her foot last week at St. Claire Regional Medical Center, in Morehead. We visited her and she was feeling some better. Get well wishes to you, Sandy. Take care. I know what it is when we can't walk. It's bad.

We attended the late Maxwell Vest estate auction Saturday, May 5. Got to see lots of our friends including Maxwell's wife, also Wilma, Jearl, and Ann Nipper, from Goshen, Indiana. They looked real good. Was so glad to see them. Jearl is my brother, Gilbert's boy. While here they visited with Dorman Nipper, in Ezel. A large crowd attended the auction.

I had a letter from my sister, Marie, of Ohio. She said she is not doing any good at all, and can't hardly get around. She said Jessie is in bad shape and is not able to drive anymore. When they were able they visited us often. Get well wishes to both of them.

Virgil and I were in town last week and got to see our friends there.

Well, may God bless everone everywhere.

Lacy Creek

May 14--Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Nickell have been Roy S. Elam, Ralph and Betty Cantrell, Jackson Cole Bailey, and Justin Gibbs.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Dan LeMaster, Jr. have been Bill Lewis, Terry Gibbs, Kim Mabry and Tanner, William Dan LeMaster. Joyce LeMaster visited last week with Jewell Young. Joyce LeMaster, Athena Blackburn and Nicholas were shopping in Pikeville Saturday.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Nickell have been Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Nickell and children, Linda Garrison, Jim Leach, Sharon Haney, Paul Caskey, Sandy McClure and boys, Kennell Lewis, and Charlie Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Nickell visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gibbs last week. They attended church at Cow Branch Sunday.

Household Hints

- Vinegar will eliminate food and ketchup stains from clothing without removing the color. It is also good for the itch of misquoto bites and for sunburn.
- After cutting onions, to remove odor from your hands press them against a stainless steel sink.
- Don't throw away potato chip crumbs, use them as a crusty topping for casseroles.
- To reduce high blood pressure, avoid eating salty foods.
- Swallow a tablespoon of pickle juice for hiccups and gastric reflux (heartburn).

Lower Elkfork

May 14--Alpha met up with Gail Howard at the park several times. She is a nice and friendly person. Good to see her.

I would like to say thank you to my children for the gifts, flowers, and visits on Mother's Day.

PSC allows East Ky. Power to up generating capacity

The Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) is allowing the East Kentucky Power Cooperative (EKPC) to proceed with construction of most of the electric generating facilities the company says are needed to meet rising demand.

In an order issued today, the PSC said the new power plants will be needed despite the fact that the 30,000-customer Warren Rural Electric Cooperative Corp. (RECC) rescinded its contract to purchase its power from EKPC. The decision by Warren RECC triggered a review by the PSC of seven plants it had earlier authorized EKPC to construct.

EKPC will be allowed to complete construction of a coal-burning 278-megawatt plant near Maysville in Mason County and to build a similar generating facility near Trapp in Clark County. The PSC also allowed EKPC to build two of the five 90-megawatt gas-fired turbine generators planned at its Clark County plant. EKPC voluntarily dropped plans for the other three.

In allowing EKPC to continue expanding its generating capacity, the PSC said it was balancing the cost of constructing the plants and possibly creating excess capacity against the costs of canceling or delaying projects already underway and the potential costs to EKPC and its customers should the utility have to purchase power from outside suppliers.

In its review, the PSC examined the need for each facility individually.

The first of the facilities to receive a PSC certificate, in September 2005, was the 278-megawatt Spurlock 4 plant in Mason County. Scheduled for completion in April 2009, it was intended to help meet the additional electric demand created when Warren RECC joined the EKPC system in April 2008.

The PSC granted a certificate for the 278-megawatt coal-burning plant in Clark County in November 2006. Known as Smith 1, the plant was designed to serve additional customers throughout EKPC's service territory.

To date, EKPC has invested nearly $50 million in Smith 1. Construction is scheduled to begin later this year, with completion in June 2011, nearly a year later than originally scheduled.

That delay reduces the likelihood that EKPC will find itself with excess generating capacity, the PSC said in today's order. Ordering a further delay to Smith 1 would cost EKPC both in contract penalties and in the likely escalation of the cost of the plant, the PSC said.

The PSC is an independent agency attached for administrative purposes to the Department of Public Protection in the Environmental and Public Protection Cabinet. It regulates more than 1,500 gas, water, sewer, electric and telecommunication utilities operating in the commonwealth of Kentucky and has approximately 110 employees.

Rejoicing At Red River

As always, we have been busy as bees at Red River Community Church these last couple of months. Revival was very uplifting and fueled the spirit of all who attended. Brothers Mike Adams and Robert Cundiff are such precious messengers of God's word. The presence of the Lord was among us each and every night as we rejoiced and praised Him for all He does for us on our journey to be with Him. Any time you have the opportunity to hear either of these gentlemen speak, please do. You will be greatly blessed.

On March 9, the Youth Group went on a bowling rip and to C C's Pizza in Morehead. They had a fun time and are planning many more outings. April 19, everyone gathered in our meeting hall for a movie, pizza, popcorn and desserts. The movie was "Facing the Giants." It showed how when life seems full of adversity, if we turn everything over to God, He gives us exactly what we need, when we need it. It is a true story and teaches a very important lesson.

We are making plans for this year's Vacation Bible School at Red River Community Church. Details will be in the next newsletter. There will be games, food, Bible lessons, crafts, and much more! So be looking!

Our church will be conducting several events during the year to have fellowship together. We all invite you to come join our loving, caring, Christian church family. We are located on Old Ky. 191 behind 205 Food Mart.

Services are: Sunday school, 10 a.m.; Sunday worship, 11 a.m.; Sunday evening worship, 6 p.m.; Youth meeting, Wednesday at 6 p.m.; Bible Study, Thursday at 7 p.m. We welcome everyone and hope to see many new faces. May God bless you each and every day!

Rural co-ops to fight caps, taxes on greenhouse gases

Officers, directors of local co-op in Washing for national conference

Rural electric cooperatives, which get 80 percent of their power from the burning of coal and serve 40 million people, are marshaling their historically potent lobbying forces to fight proposals for limits caps or taxes on the emission of greenhouse gases that cause global warming.

"Some 2,000 co-op directors and executives who packed into a hotel ballroom on Capitol Hill last week were warned by Glenn English, chief executive of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, that controlling climate change would mean 'sizeable increases, big increases' in their electric rates."

English told co-op officials to give senators and House members a "dose of reality," and said, "We're willing to do our part for the country, but we have to do it the right way."

The co-ops serve many fast-growing suburbs that were once farm country, "and they need to increase their generation capacity by 50 percent during the next 10 years, according to the cooperative association." Brasher writes. "Most of that additional electricity must be produced from coal, the co-ops say." They also say co-ops are worried about the impact of rate increases on poor rural residents.

Barry Hart, chief executive of the Association of Missouri Electric Cooperatives, said a tax of $20 per ton of carbon emissions, which is in the range of what has been proposed in Congress, would force co-ops to raise electric rates by 50 percent.

It is not clear what Congress will do, if anything, to address climate change before the 2008 election. There are a variety of proposals, both for a cap-and-trade system to limit emissions, and for taxes on carbon. A cap-and-trade system would be built around the exchange of emission allowances. Utilities that have more allowances than they need could sell them to utilities that need to expand and increase emissions.

Congressional Democrats view climate change as a potent political issue but are divided over whether to take action now or wait until after the 2008 presidential election.

Attending the national conference from the Licking Valley Rural Electric Cooperative, which serves, Morgan, Magoffin, Breathitt, and dren. Whatever you decide to do, enjoy it. You worked long and hard to reach this place.

Jesus didn't have time to enjoy these years. They were taken from Him when He was nailed on that cross. He didn't have children of His Own, but He loved the little ones who came to Him. He said, "Let the little ones come to me." It would be wonderful to be called to see Jesus doing His many acts of kindness.

During these years we should take time to fellowship with the Lord. Perhaps a lack of time hindered your fellowship with Him before. Now you have time to study His word and become better acquainted with Him during your fall season.

Note the message 2 Timothy 2:15 Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of truth.

Have you noticed that fall is near, leaves are changing color? There are many signs around that fall will be here in all of it's brilliant colors. Lovely to see, aren't they?

The time or season comes into each of our lives and it is fall. We have come through all the ages from babies to adults. Now we need to enjoy the years during this season. There are many opportunities in which to participate. Maybe your work hours are lessened and you can do some things you wanted to do. More time to work in the church. More time to be with your grandchild-

Child Abuse A Matter of Fact

Kentucky law mandates abuse be reported

Kentucky's law not only mandates the reporting of abuse or neglect, it specifically states that "any person, including but not limited to a physician, osteopathic physician, nurse, teacher, school personnel, social worker, coroner, medical examiner, child-caring personnel, resident, intern, chiropractor, dentist, optometrist, emergency medical technician, paramedic, health professional, mental health professional, peace officer or any organization or agency for any of the above, who knows or has reasonable cause to believe that a child is dependent, neglected or abused, regardless of whether the person believed to have caused the dependency, neglect or abuse is a parent, guardian, person exercising custodial control or supervision or another person, or who has attended such a child as a part of his/her professional duties shall cause a report to be made of such information to a local law enforcement agency, Kentucky State Police, Department of Social Services, Commonwealth's or County Attorney".

To cause a report of child abuse or neglect to be made, or to obtain information on how to help prevent it, please call 1-800-468-8920
